at 0400 on Thursday 23 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Largely cloudy with outbreaks of rain pushing north.

Today:
A largely cloudy morning, with a little light rain, especially over the hills. Rain turning more persistent into the afternoon, before clearing to the north and east towards dusk. Mild and breezy. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Some clear spells developing, especially in the south. On the whole though a lot of cloud around, and still a few showers, mainly in the north. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Friday:
A cloudy start to Christmas Eve with patchy drizzle. A few brighter spells developing, ahead of a band of persistent rain later, perhaps with snow over the highest hills. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Turning colder Christmas Day, perhaps with a little hill snow. Staying cloudy on Boxing Day, although rain and hill snow petering out. Mostly dry on Monday with a little brightness.
